

Adults can drive their children round the bend

CAMBRIDGE Dutchbikes is celebrating the first anniversary of its trendsetting School Run Centre in Hope Street Yard. The centre offers advice on bicycles, tricycles and accessories designed for transporting children, and claims to be making an increasing contribution to relieving general road congestion and parking outside schools, reducing pollution and improving community relations as bikers tend to shop locally and chat to each other.